Questions clients ask

Is state nomination mandatory for Subclass 190?
Yes. Each state sets its own criteria based on occupations and demand.

What is the minimum score?
65 points including the +5 nomination bonus.

Do I need to live in the nominating state?
Yes. Applicants must intend to live and work in the state that nominated them.

How long does Subclass 190 processing take?
Home Affairs' published service standard is 4 months for 50% of applications and 16 months for 90%. XIPHIAS's own observed average, including the state nomination stage, is about 12 months.

Can I include family members?
Yes — partner and dependent children can apply together.

Important notes

- Subclass 190 invitations are issued by states and territories, not in the departmental SkillSelect rounds. Home Affairs states that state and territory nominations are not affected by departmental invitation rounds, so there is no national cut-off score for 190; each state sets its own selection criteria.
- Each state runs its own occupation list, its own streams and its own additional criteria, and changes them without much notice. Check the state's own site before committing.
- State nomination adds 5 points. You still need 65 points in total including those 5.
- You must be under 45 at the time of invitation.

Compliance

- Home Affairs published service standard: 4 months for 50% of applications, 16 months for 90%. The headline timeline on this page is XIPHIAS's own observed average from our case files, which includes the state nomination stage.
- Your occupation must be on the MLTSSL or the STSOL (ANZSCO 2013). Both were last re-issued effective 28 March 2026.
- Applications are processed in the order set by Ministerial Direction No. 122.
- Current queue positions published by Home Affairs: May 2025 for priority sectors, January 2026 for onshore applicants, February 2025 for offshore.
- Competent English is required at the time of invitation.
